

~ The Morning After ~

Volume II, Issue A

May 20, 2009

You might call it The Perfect Storm: Rainy weather. A huge crowd due to the Sox, Bruins and Celts games on the same night. A well-enforced maximum occupancy. All these forces combined to give ABC Club an “interesting” start at Atlantic Beer Garden, our Season 2 A Bar. For those of you that braved the wind and dreariness and throngs of Boston sports fans, and managed to make it through the strictly-maintained line outside, congratulations! The party inside spread across the entire bar, encouraging much mingling with the financial types who are ABG regulars. Tons of brews were available for the tasting, and the ABCer thumbs-up reviews of nachos, French fries, and stuffed burgers were plentiful as well. And as advertised, there were no TV shortages to follow the action!
